

PASSPORT OF THE EDUCATIONAL PROGRAM

8D01704 – the kazakh language and literature in schools with non-kazakh language of instruction

EDUCATIONAL PROGRAM GOAL

Training of professional university professors who have mastered the educational paradigms, psycholinguistic aspects of the Kazakh language and literary criticism, analyze the language and literature in a comparatively integrative aspect, introduce scientific innovations, rationally use scientific and intercultural communication.

PROFESSIONAL ACTIVITY

- educational;
- scientific;
- organizational and managerial activities.

LEARNING OUTCOMES

LO1 – learns to write a scientific article, scientific work, analyzes and formulates analytical information and data, implements and uses in research;

LO2 – analyzes the types of methods used in research, learns how to apply them, expresses his ideas in academic speech, scientific and intercultural communication, international relations in a free, scientific language;

LO3 – develops, critically analyzes, compares new scientific and methodological concepts, various informational data on the Kazakh language and literature, independently plans and carries out independent research work, performs mathematical and statistical analysis of experimental results;

LO4 – mastering the requirements of academic rhetoric, in the media, scientific, practical, methodological conferences and training seminars at the international and national levels, talks about the object of study, its results and can prove its point of view;

LO5 – learns to critically analyze, compare, study works, analyze the specifics of the literary text, the nature of the genre, stylistic composition, aesthetic integrity, complex structure, the psychology of the work, a chain of myths, concepts, archetypes;

LO6 – distinguishes and interprets the directions of modern literary criticism, development trends, methods and techniques of analysis of fiction, concepts and categories of philological science, basic theories and concepts of modern literary criticism;

LO7 – analyzes the Kazakh language in semantic, comparatively structural, functional, cognitive aspects, defines relations with anthropocentric sciences, rationally uses the Kazakh language in intercultural communication;

LO8 – analyzes the connections between the science of the theory of communication, linguistics, intercultural communication, psychology, masters the role of semantics, syntax and pragmatic laws in language teaching, using linguistic and paralinguistic tools, studies ways to achieve communicative goals.